NEWS AND COMMENT.

The Mine Strikers.

Washington, D. C., June 4.—A special from Birmingham, Ala., says: The Pennsylvania operators have decided to employ negro laborers in their fight against the miners. This means of warfare has already been quite successful in this State. Two hundred colored miners left here yesterday in special cars for Johnsonburg, Pa. More are to follow.

Strikers Burn Bridges.
Massillon, Ohio, June 4.—The striking coal miners have effectively stopped all traffic over the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling, in West Virginia coal by burning the bridges at Piquette and Hooway. General Manager Woolfer is on the scene. The managers of the roads say they will stand by their right to haul West Virginia coal if they have to use armed force to do it.

The Danville Register calls upon Governor O'Ferrall to convene the legislature in extra session for the purpose of providing for a constitutional convention. It is hard to say which is the greater evil—our constitution or a session of the legislature. We think, however, that we can better endure the former, with all its defects. If Gov. O'Ferrall wants to make himself solid with the people he would be wise to keep the general assembly out of Richmond until the time for the regular biennial session.—Under Appeal.

Mr. Harris Thinks the End Not Far Off.

Washington, June 2.—Senator Harris said this morning that his announcement of night sessions beginning next week meant at the outset 8 or 9 o'clock, and that they would not be prolonged beyond that hour if reasonable progress was made. If not, a later hour might be insisted upon. He declared that he considered this the beginning of the end, and that the final vote is not far off.

A few days ago at a prayer meeting held not far from Jacksonville, a Republican brother prayed that God would cause the republican party to hang together; whereupon a democratic brother shouted: "Amen! Amen!" This led the republican brother to make the following amendment to his prayer: "Not oh Lord, in the sense our democratic brother means, but in the spirit of accord and concord." "Any cord will do, Lord; any cord will do!" interrupted the democratic brother. The pastor immediately made a rule that hereafter politics should be kept out of the prayer meeting.

A Close Call For Life.

Thursday evening last as Mr. Back Jeffries, who lives near Halfway, in this county, was returning from Hymarket, in the darkness of night about 11 o'clock he mistook the railway for the country road and proceeded on the same some distance when he came to the bridge which spans Mill Run, which is about sixty feet long. When about half way across, the plank for foot passengers broke with the horse and his feet went down wedging the rider to his back. In this position they remained some time until Mr. Jeffries' cries for help attracted Mr. Bettis, a railroad hand, who finding his efforts unavailing went for Mr. Ladd and Wayne Glascock. While they were trying and using their best efforts to extricate horse and rider the whistle of a special train was heard and Mr. Bettis ran down the track and frantically signalled the train to stop. It did so just before the bridge was reached and the train men adding their efforts to the other rescuers pried the horse up so as to release Mr. Jeffries' leg and he was found to be not seriously hurt. With ropes and levers the horse was then extricated and rolled down the bank. He was very much bruised, but able to bear his master's command.—Warrenton Virginian.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[Written and compiled for the HERALD.]

WASHINGTON, June 4, 1894.—There is no longer any doubt that the published charges concerning the speculation of Senators in sugar stock were based upon correct information. One Senator has acknowledged the corn-pleading extenuating circumstances, and if one did, it is probable that more did. In fact, Senator Hill intimated very strongly, in his speech in favor of public sitings of the investigating committee, his belief that other Senators had speculated. Senator McPherson, of N. J., is the man who acknowledges having made $1,500 by speculating in sugar stock, the extenuating circumstances that he sold the stock as soon as he realized the impropriety of his action, when he might have made much larger profits by having held onto it awhile longer. The testimony of the man who is claimed to have said that he overheard a conversation between members of the sugar trust and prominent Senators, concerning the sugar schedule or the tariff bill, is to be taken this week. It is expected also that the grand jury, now in session, will act upon the newspaper correspondents who have refused to betray confidence reposed in them.

No agreement has been reached as to when the Senate will vote on the tariff bill, but the fact that the democratic managers begin this week to lengthen the daily sessions of the Senate indicates that the end is almost in sight. It is now regarded as certain that the sugar schedule, to be voted on this week, will be adopted, and after its adoption there will be little, except the income tax, left for the minority to fight. For that reason the claim that the bill will be passed before the 20th of the month is regarded as a reasonable one, it being taken for granted that the republicans will not delay the bill after they know it is bound to pass, just for the sake of delay.

The House Commerce committee has favorably reported the bill to permit railroad pooling. The report claims that pooling is in the interest of small shippers and individual enterprises. There will probably be some interesting talk on the floor of the House before the bill is acted upon, as there are a number of Representatives who do not endorse the action of the committee.

This same committee is accused by the committee of the International Typographical Union, which is here urging action upon the bill for the establishment of a Government system of telegraph, of having "hung up" that bill, and the typists threaten to carry the war into the district of every member of the committee if their bill be not given a fair show. Representative Wise, of Va., is chairman of the committee, which has a membership of 17.

Resolutions have been introduced in both Senate and House instructing the Secretary of State to give the Russian government the required six months notice of the intention of the United States to abrogate the extradition treaty between the two countries. The introduction of these resolutions is the work of American Hebrews, who resent the refusal of the czar's government to allow them to visit Russia and have adopted that as one of the means of "getting even." The fact that this resolution was introduced in the House by one of Mr. Cleveland's warmest friends in that body—Mr. Straus, of New York—seems to contradict the current rumor that the administration is indifferent concerning Russia's treatment of American Hebrews.

It is not probable that the debate on the repeal of the tax on state bank currency will close this week, the general impression being that a vote will not be taken until somewhere in the neighborhood of the 15th. Since they succeeded by a vote of 129 to 84 in defeating an attempt to side track the bill, the repealers are growing more confident. Others regard the results as doubtful with the chances against repeal. Repeal will not get a single republican vote and it is doubtful whether any populist will vote for it. Its strength is almost entirely confined to the democrats from the south, although several from New York are also working for repeal, it is claimed by its opponents, in the interest of Wall street, which it is said would welcome the addition of forty-four new kinds of currency because it would thereby be furnished with a new method of making money—shaving the notes.

There has been a split in the army of the commonwealth Galvin's men refused to wear Coxey badges, and Frye, who is now in command of Coxey's men, refused to recognize them in the issue of ration unless they did. The result is two camps, neither of which has food enough for the men. The imprisonment of Coxey, Browne and Jones will end next Saturday, but as a matter of principle it is said that the attempt to get them released under habeas corpus proceedings will not be abandoned.

A Fatal Shooting Affair Near Taylortown, Loudoun County.

Leesburg, Va., June 4.—Information reaches here today of a most unfortunate shooting affair which occurred last night near Taylortown, a village some ten miles north of here, in this county, which a young man named Vernon (Bud) Stry lost his life. The story of the affair as reported here this morning is that the trouble grew out of the attentions paid to a sister of young Stry by Charles Henley, who is from Montgomery county, Md., and some time ago came to live in the Taylortown neighborhood, making his home with Mr. Carter. Shortly thereafter, it seems, he began paying attention to Miss Stry, who is a young lady of eighteen years. His attentions were objectionable to her relatives, and they ordered Henley to cease them. This caused bad feeling, and Henley soon left, but returned on Saturday last and went to Mr. Carter's. When his presence in the community became known the anger of Miss Stry's relatives was again aroused. Last night Henley went to church from Mr. Carter's and after service he was followed by Bud Stry and several other young men.

The party seem to have been armed, and when not far from Mr. Carter's house they came up with Henley, and several shots were fired, probably intended only to frighten him. He however, seems to have thought otherwise, and being armed fired one shot in return, killing young Stry almost instantly. Henley ran to Mr. Carter's and informed him of what had happened, and that gentleman, accompanied by his son, went to the scene of the trouble, where they found the dead body of Stry.

Near the body was found a five-shotter with four chambers discharged. Next morning at some distance from where Stry fell was found another pistol, supposed to be the one used by Henley, with one empty chamber. This morning Henley came to Leesburg and surrendered himself to the authorities. He was lodged in jail to await the verdict of the coroner's jury.

Young Stry, who was killed, was about twenty-four years old and leaves a wife, but no children. Henley is probably not over twenty-two or twenty-three years of age. Both have always borne good characters and the unfortunate affair is deeply regretted.

The coroner's inquest in the Taylortown shooting case, without concluding the testimony, was adjourned to reassemble in Leesburg next Friday, the prisoner meanwhile remaining in jail. The dead man will be buried tomorrow.

Gov. O'Ferrall Means War.

Washington, June 4.—A conference of war in which Maryland is directly concerned, inasmuch as she is the offending party, was this morning in the office of Assistant Secretary of the Navy Mr. A. Doo, at which, besides Mr. McAdoo, there were present Governor O'Ferrall, of Virginia, his attorney-general, C. P. W. T. Sampson, chief of ordinance, as naval expert on the method of campaign, and Lieutenant S. C. Crisfield, who advised the Governor as to the best modern ordinance for disastrous work. The conference was the result of yesterday's attack by Marylanders of Crisfield on Virginia soft-crab catchers, who are said to have been in forbidden territory.

Governor O'Ferrall is making preparations for a descent on Maryland soft-crab poachers, which, he opines, will make the best of them quail with alarm. The Governor says he will not tolerate any further dicker and proposes to stop Marylanders from taking Virginia's crabs if he has to call out his entire oyster navy, naval reserve and State militia. He says the Old Dominion is going to assert her rights in vigorous and convincing style and that he will shortly have a naval support which will be able to cope even with the Maryland oyster navy if the two States put forward their full fighting force in the interest of the soft-crab industry. Governor O'Ferrall was in conference for an hour and derived much valuable advice from the Assistant Secretary of the Navy in the use of the latest and most approved methods of naval maneuvers for bridging to surrender small fleets.

The Governor requested the Navy Department to supply him with a complete outfit of modern rapid-fire guns, with which, he proposes to pelt the crabs.

THE SOFT-COAL STRIKE.

A Very Serious Outlook in the Maryland Region.

Frostburg, Md., June 4.—This morning two hundred strikers succeeded in getting the Vale Summit and Frostburg miners of Hoffman mine to suspend. A meeting of the Hoffman miners was held late this evening and resulted in a vote of one hundred and seventy-eight to suspend. Three hundred strikers marched in a body from the Hoffman meeting into Frostburg and through the main street of the town. These strikers, increased by great numbers from the lower end of the region, propose to march to Eckhart mine in the morning and make a strong effort to have the Eckhart miners suspended. The Eckhart miners held a meeting in the mine today at noon. The sealed letter from President Mayer was read. It contained the substance of the matter published in The Sun a few days ago. A vote was taken and resulted in favor of continuing work. A parade of the strikers through Frostburg tonight created considerable excitement. This morning the strikers caused the deputy sheriffs to retreat from an opening near Frostburg through which the Frostburg miners enter Hoffman mine. The pitched battle of the strike will be decided tomorrow in the attempt to get Eckhart miners to suspend. The authorities of Allegany county have communicated with the Governor and the situation is considered very grave. It is feared that there will be a serious outbreak and that force will be needed to preserve order.

PROPERTY DESTROYED IN WEST VIRGINIA.

Wheeling, W. Va., June 4.—Reports from the various mining regions of West Virginia and Eastern Ohio tonight are of a very disquieting nature. From Kenova comes the serious report that Ohio miners are threatening to blow up the Norfolk and Western bridge over the Ohio river at that point. A large force of deputy sheriffs have been sent there. Both Huntington companies of military are under marching orders to go to Winifrede, on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, and the men were in their armory at 8 p. m. At various points in the Kanawha Valley bridges have been burned and mining property blown up. At Wheeling Creek mines, three miles west of this city, in Ohio, 600 miners assembled today and all transportation of coal was prevented. At Flushing, on the same road, the strikers burned a bridge this morning.

Charleston, W. Va., June 4.—As the Powell men were coming from work at 6 o'clock this evening they were fired upon from ambush by strikers. Four of the workmen were killed. The excitement is intense. The persons who did the firing are unknown, as are the names of the killed. Sheriff Hinman is on the way to the scene with a posse. All is quiet at other points along the line.

Cripple Creek, Col., June 4.—A skirmish took place today near Midland tollgate between three miners and five deputies who were sent out from the main body at Divide as pickets. Several shots were fired on both sides. Jack David, a miner, was shot in the arm and a deputy was seriously wounded. The deputies were forced to retreat.

Besides taking Henry E. Woods, president of the Victor Town S. C. Company, into custody, the strikers last night seized Clarence O. Finch, county superintendent of schools, and D. E. Watkins, a Colorado Springs school teacher, and they are now held prisoners on Bail Hill as hostages for President Calderwood or any other miners who may be arrested.

Col. Breckinridge's Campaign.

Frankfort, Ky., June 4.—Congressman Breckinridge spoke in the State House here today to an enthusiastic gathering of 4,000 people. He was introduced by ex-Mayor E. H. Taylor, Jr., and spoke about an hour and a half. Many ladies attended the meeting. Col. Breckinridge was entertained at dinner at the home of Col. E. H. Taylor, Jr.

Paris, Ky., June 4.—Hon. W. C. Owens, the opposing candidate to Colonel Breckinridge for Congress in the Ashland district, spoke here today to the largest audience that ever attended a political meeting in Paris. About 4,000 people crowded in and around Owen's home brought 800 voters. Hundreds of ladies were present and they cheered most vigorously when Mr. Owens made his telling thrusts at Colonel Breckinridge.

Economy in North Carolina. The Winston Sentinel mentions as an instance of the country of admiration that North Carolina, with a population of 1,617,947 pays $82,000 for her judges and prosecuting attorneys, while Virginia, with 1,655,980 population, pays $206,000 for her judges and prosecuting attorneys. At the same time it is claimed that the judiciary of North Carolina compares in ability and integrity with that of any State of the Union.

A queer condition of affairs has developed out in Illinois. Miners who were getting 72 cts a ton for mining coal joined in the strike for 69 cent scale. They refused to work for more or less than 69 cts and the operators refused to pay less than 72 cts. The miners are idle.

Live Stock Markets.

BALTIMORE, May 31.
Beef Cattle.—The market at the opening and for some time thereafter was fairly active, and for better grades a shade higher range of figures was obtained—say 4 to 4 1/2 last week. On other grades there was no improvement, but toward close became very slow, and in a few instances, perhaps, lower figures were accepted. The range of prices was 2 1/2 to 3 1/2, with 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 for 100 lbs.
Prices of beef cattle this week ranged as follows: Bevers 4 50 to 4 65 cts. these generally rated first quality 4 20 to 4 35 cts. and ordinary thin steers, oxen and cows 2 00 to 2 30 cts. per lb.
Of the cattle received 170 head came from Virginia.
Milk Cows.—There is a fair offering and an improved feeling for cows. Quotations at 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 per head, and a few extra shade higher. Receipts this week were 130 head.
Veal Calves.—There is a full run and a fair good trade for stock; others dull. Quotations at 3 1/2 to 4 cts. and a few extra 4 1/2 cts. per lb. Receipt 502 head.

BALTIMORE, June 4, 1894.

Swine.—There is a full offering this week, the number being some 1,450 head more than last week. The market is slow and weak, in sympathy with that of the west. Quotations without serious change. Western hogs sell at 5 00 to 5 10 cts. and near by hogs from Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia—$5.00 to $5.30 per 100 lbs. being a shade off from last week.
Sheep and lambs.—Trade in sheep and lambs is exceedingly slow. There is too much common and trashy stuff on the market. Sheep are quoted at 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cts. and a few extra 3 1/2 cts. per lb. gross.
Lambs 3 1/2 cts. per lb. gross.
